MADLAIN BEUS AND GEORGE ALMA KEYES

Madlain Beus

Madlain was born Mar 20, 1879 in Burch Creek (Ogden), Utah, the daughter of Michael Beus, Jr. and Elizabeth Harriet Lathrop. She was the third daughter. Her father and one sister died when she was six months old.

She married George Alma Keyes Mar 20, 1895. She passed away July 13, 1977.

I don't know too much of her early childhood, a few things she used to tell us kids how she remembered her grandmother Beus (Marianne Combe Beus) out cutting hay along the ditch banks with a scythe and dragging it down in bundles to feed the stock, and how devoted they were to the church and that one tenth of everything went in the tithing basket. She said she guessed if they had ten children one of them would have gone in.

She told how they used to make their own cheese, and how every spring everyone was lined up and had sulphur and molasses for a tonic.

Her mother married David Byrne after Grandpa Michael died and he was quite strict with her and her sister. They weren't allowed to go to the barn when it was chore time, so they would sneak down when Grandma wasn't watching and tease him. He would take them back and tell Grandma to keep them in the house.

They had to help with the housework. She said she stood on a chair to help with dishes and they didn't have rugs so the wooden floors had to be scrubbed on their knees with lye soap until they were almost white. This habit she kept all her life. She always got down and scrubbed the floors.

She said they were allowed to take the horse and buggy once in a while if they got all their work done and would not tease their step father by calling him "Uncle Dave."

When she married my father they had lost her baptism record and she had to redo it. So they went down to the Weber River in March. There was still ice on the water, but no one caught cold. She said it was really cold.

They were married in the Salt Lake Temple on her sixteenth birthday.

Dad moved her in with his father and five brothers and sisters, their mother having died. She tried to take care of everyone, but finally got mad and told father if he didn't find a place she would leave. She had quite a temper and Grandpa Keyes wasn't too easy to get along with. She said when they used to go to dances they would load the kids in the wagon and take quilts along and make beds on the floor around the dance hall and they really had some good times.

She liked housework and was a very good cook. She worked for other people until she was eight-five years old. Then the doctor told her she had to stop. Her sight was getting bad and also her hearing, but she could out walk anyone.

She had eleven children and outlived all but three of them. She died July 13, 1977 at the age of 98. She was able to be up until the last week of her life.

George Alma Keyes

George Alma Keyes

George Alma Keyes was born 14 August 1873 at Ogden, Utah, the son of Alma Keyes and Marie Evaline Tracy.

I don't know anything about the boyhood of my father (George Alma Keyes). He worked away from home most of the time after I was old enough to remember.

I know he worked on the railroad when he was young and after he and mother were married and they moved around a lot. He was a section foreman for the L.P. Railroad when I was born in Wabuska, Nevada.

We moved to Utah when I was two and after that he worked herding sheep most of the time. We used to spend our summers at the sheep camp with him. In the winter he went out on the desert.

I always looked forward to summer so I could go with him. We had some really good times when I was small. He was a very good and kind man and a good father, and did the best he could to provide for us. I don't remember him ever having an argument with my mother and he always told us kids to mind her and help all we could while he was away.

During the depression he worked as a night watchman at a tavern, as work was real hard to find and there were still five of us at home.

I really missed him when he was away. We were very close.

He loved to hunt and fish whenever he could, but he never had too much time to do either.

George died 27 December 1942 at Ogden, Utah.
